GALVESTON DESTROYED.

LOSS OF LIFE IS ESTIMATED AT FROM
1,000 TO 5,000.

ALL SOUTHERN TEXAS IN THE GRASP OF THE TERRIBLE STORM.

GALVESTON CUT OFF FROM OUTSIDE WORLD.

Houston, Tex., Sept. 9.—The storm that raged along the coast of Texas last night was the most disastrous that has ever visited this section.

The destruction of railroads and of telegraph wires has made it impossible to gather the full extent of the damage done by Saturday night's storm along the coast of Texas, but enough is known to reveal an appalling disaster involving the loss of hundreds and perhaps thousands of lives. Galveston is still inundated and cut off from communication, and it is feared that the city was swept by a tidal wave. In the absence of definite information estimates of the loss of life run into the thousands. One man who left Galveston after the storm says the whole city was inundated, and that one thousand people were killed, drowned, or missing. A relief train from Houston could get no nearer than six miles of Virginia Point, where the prairie was covered with bodies and wreckage. Two hundred dead bodies were counted from the train. Many vessels were blown high and dry and wrecked, indicating a tidal wave. Besides Galveston, Sabine Pass, Port Arthur, Brazos and other points are shut off from communication. From other points in Texas come reports of loss of life as follows: Chenango 9, Brookshire 4, Seabrook 4, Morgan's Point 3, Houston 1, Alvin 7, Texas City 6, Oyster Creek 6, Angleton 3, Arcada

1, Brazoria 6. From nearly all these points come reports of many others injured or missing. The damage to crops was everywhere great and beyond estimation at the present time. Gov. Sayres estimates the total loss of life by the storm at three thousand.

Galveston is on an island and is only five feet above the sea level. The Tremont Hotel is about half a mile from the bay and the water was three feet deep in the rotunda of this hotel.

Hopkinsville People There.

There are several former Hopkinsville people in Galveston. Mrs. V. W. Crabbe and her daughter, Mrs. T. W. Moore and child, are among them. Many Hopkinsville people have relatives and friends there and great anxiety will be felt until further news can be obtained. As the city is cut off from telegraphic communication, nothing could be heard yesterday, although many sent telegrams of inquiry.

Death List Growing.

Houston, Tex., Sept. 10.—Late advices put the number of lives lost at Galveston at not less than 1,500 and some estimates go as high as 5,000. Hundreds of bodies are still under the ruined buildings of the city. Property loss will reach $10,000,000. All of the wires are still down. Government tents and relief supplies have been ordered to Galveston.

FATAL FALL.

Thos. L. Graham Loses His Life in An Accident.

Mr. Thomas L. Graham, of Casky, was fatally injured Friday morning by a fall from his barn, and died from his barn, and died from his injuries at 5 o'clock Sunday morning.

Mr. Graham had climbed up into the top of the barn to examine some tobacco to see if it had been fired enough. While so engaged he lost his footing and fell fifty feet. He caught with one hand part of the way down and that broke the force of his fall, but it is supposed his spine was hurt by this attempt to catch and save himself. He fell with great force and was completely disabled, through not rendered unconscious. The men who were with him put him on a cot and took him to the house and doctors were summoned. No bones were broken but he was found to be injured internally or about the spine. He lingered nearly 48 hours, much of the time unconscious. He fully realized the hopelessness of his condition from the first but accepted the inevitable result with christian resignation. He called his family to his bedside Saturday and bade them farewell and said to them that he was willing and prepared to die. Shortly afterwards he became unconscious and continued to sink until the end came.

Mr. Graham was a son of the late John Graham and a brother of the late Walter S. Graham, of this city. He was 51 years old and leaves a wife and two grown children, Miss Katie Graham and Douglass Graham.

The funeral services were held at the residence yesterday morning, by the pastor of the Pembroke Baptist church, of which deceased was a member. The interment took place in Hopewell cemetery about noon.

Mr. Graham was a prominent, wealthy and highly respected man, whose loss will be deeply felt in the community in which he had long been a leading citizen.

CITIZEN OF CANTON

He had been ill for several months and had come to Cadiz for treatment. He was 51 years old, a member of the Methodist church and leaves a family. The interment took place at Canton yesterday.

ANOTHER BARN BURNED.

A large tobacco barn belonging to Rev. Samuel Sumner, of near Roaring Springs, was destroyed by fire at an early hour Sunday morning. The building contained about six thousand sticks of the weed.

AGAINST M'KINLEY.

Indiana W. C. T. U. to Pray Constantly for His Defeat.

Indianapolis, Aug. 30.—The Indiana Women's Christian Temperance Union has started an endless chain of prayers for the defeat of President McKinley. They have printed thousands of "presidential prayer chain pledges," and the plans is to have the woman addressed make prayers herself and send the pledge to two of her women friends, each of whom will start to pray, and send similar letters to two of her friends. The prayer chain is:

"Whereas, President Wm. McKinley has shown that he prefers the favors of the liquor men of the nation to that of the millions of Christian people who petitioned him to blot out the canteen scourge from the army; therefore, I pledge myself as follows:

"First—I pledge myself that I will, until election day, make it a special subject of prayer to our Heavenly Father that He will give to the United States a better man for President for the next four years—one who will keep wine off the white house table; who will be a total abstainer himself, and who will do what he can to overthrow the liquor traffic.

"Second—I further pledge myself to make at least two copies of this letter and mail one to some sister in the state in which I reside and the other copy to some other state."

"On the bottom margin of the pledge is the Bible citation, Matthew, xviii, 17.

A Significant Fact.

It is a very significant fact, that prominent on the stand with Mr. Yerkes was Holland Whittaker, a man charged with being an accessory before the fact of the murder of Wm. Goebel, and who, upon his appearance, was given an ovation almost equal to that given to Yerkes himself, and then, too, the large portrait of the "persecuted" fugitive from justice, W. S. Taylor, was hanging directly over the head of the speaker during the time he was trying to do the split act on the pardon question.—Bowling Green Times.

ISLE OF THE SEA.

Interesting Letter From The Atlantic Sea Coast.

Cottage City, Martha's Vineyard, Mass., Aug. 30, 1900.

DEAR KENTUCKIANS:—

Thinking perhaps some of your many readers would be glad to hear from an "Isle of the Sea," I write a short description of this island summer resort. This is indeed "a Mecca of rest and enjoyment."

"A region of repose it seems a place of slumber and of dreams."

This beautiful island with its parks and groves, its flowers and vines, its pretty homes, is "a gem of earth in ocean setting."

The cool delightful ozone air, with the magnificent panorama of ships on the mighty deep, gives health and strength to make a tired work teacher, student, and worker in various callings, and often lengthens out life's day. From twenty to fifty thousand people visit this resort during the heated months, and keep cool surrounded by the great Atlantic waves.

This island was first a camp-meeting ground where the New England fathers pitched their tents and worshipped in the groves. "God's first temples," and held communion with Nature's own Creator. As the years passed on, summer homes were built where the tents first stood, a town sprang up, and a Baptist and a Methodist tabernacle were erected, one in a park amid the flowers, the other in a grove of gnarled oaks, where the breezes sing tunes through the branches.

The New England "fathers in Israel" gather here today, and praise the same God who brought the Pilgrims safely over. The island was named Martha's Vineyard by its discoverer, Captain Gosnold, in the year 1602, who found it covered with vines and delicious berries of many varieties. Martha's Vineyard is about twenty miles long, nine or ten miles wide. It lies five miles out in the ocean off the southern Cape Cod coast. There are five towns on the island, the largest of which is Cottage City, and it is situated on the northeastern coast, facing the great ocean. On one side is Vineyard Sound, called "the greatest marine highway of America." Many ships and steamers pass this way to many parts of the world. Vineyard Haven harbor "extends about two miles into the island. Hundred of schooners lie in the anchor in this harbor in quiet waters, while the billows roll high in storms at sea. The New York Yacht Club made us a visit, which consisted of a fleet of about two hundred schooners, steam yachts, sloops, and yawls. At night they were illuminated, and presented a dazzling scene of wondrous electric beauty. This is a great place for yachting and fishing. Some of the young ladies can sail a yacht most skillfully.

There are thirty miles of concrete driveways on the island, and with the absence of heat and dust, it makes an ideal place for wheel-riding. Bathing is very fine and thousands plunge into the rolling surf. One would imagine Cottage City to be a town of cottages, but nearly all the houses are two and three stories. Many people from many cities have built summer homes here at the seashore, and call them cottages. It is a city of summer homes, a city of brotherly love. These sojourners of a refreshing climate, drinking together at Nature's fount, leave off formalities, and meet as friends with friend. Thus it seems that "a touch of Nature makes the whole world kin."

"The shirt waist man" is here in full force and it seems as come to stay, till the northern blasts drive him from hence. It is a rather picturesque scene as we look out upon hundreds of men arrayed in pink waists, cream waists, with knee pants, and variegated stockings. One would think the days of chivalry had returned or were just going—which is it? But it is "the fad," and the man at the seashore must wear a pretty shirt waist, else how can he play golf, ride the wheel, sail the boat, and catch the fish? The fair one at his side, a blooming maid with roses in her hair, beats him in the golf game, and as they sit resting on the beach, while he speaks in accents low, she looks tenderly into his deep kind eyes, and answers, "with all thy faults I love thee still." Edgartown the capital of this island is six miles away, and a quant looking town. There we saw a house 200 years old. Near it is the place marked as the grave of Gov. Carver, the first governor of the Plymouth Colony in the beginning of the 17th century. Soon we will be nearing the homes of Longfellow, Emerson, Hawthorne, Whittier, and the great battlefields, where "our fathers stood and fired the shot heard round the world." Even here we feel we are almost on sacred ground, for in sight across the Sound, is Cape Cod, and it was "down on the Cape" that the Pilgrim Fathers, followed the trees and made their homes. Yes, only a short run will take us to that ever memorable rock, "our national corner stone," where the Pilgrims landed from the Mayflower, on a cold stormy day in Dec., 1620.

Cottage City is noted for its school, the Martha's Vineyard Summer Institute, which has just closed its 23rd annual session. There were about 500 students from many states, most of them teachers who could both rest and study in so cool a tonic air. There were many fine lectures, and readings by the most accomplished artists, and best of New England talent. Dr. Emerson of Boston was great in his class lectures on Oratory and Expression, and made his pupils long for more of the good and the beautiful in true art. He is indeed a master mind.

Come with me now to the beach, and we'll listen to the great ocean's roar, as it's waves plunge and lash the shore, and we will gaze into the great expanse of waters, and watch the steamers as they glide gracefully along the trackless deep. Look at the waves as they dash against the rocks, filling the air with flying spray. See the pretty white winged yachts as they sail o'er the dancing waves. How delightful! As we behold this grand scene, of which the eye never wearies, we want to exclaim with Byron, "Roll on thou deep and dark blue ocean roll! Ten thousand fleets sweep over thee in vain." As still we gaze on the "mighty deep," and our souls reach out further and further o'er the great expanse, it is then we say—"Thou glorious mirror, where the Almighty's form glosses itself in tempests; in all time, calm or convulsed, in breeze, or gale, or storm, i'cing the pole, or in the torrid clime, dark heaving: boundless, endless and sublime—the image of Eternity—the throne of the Invisible." Glorious, glorious ocean how we love thee! to be living is sublime!

Come with me again, and we will board the steamer at Highland Wharf, for Gay Head, an excursion leaving for that point every Saturday. Bring along your overcoats and wraps, for you will get very cold if you do not. It is a sail of twenty miles or more around the island to the southern coast, where lies a hamlet settled by Indians. As we approach the town, in the distance looms up the beautiful many colored cliffs. There are said to be over twenty kinds of clay composing the cliffs and it is a remarkable sight to travelers, who gather specimens and take home with them. The Indians are an interesting people, as they meet us at the wharf, in their odd looking excoats. You may prepare yourself for a jolly ride in the oxcart to the lighthouse on the top of the cliffs. This lighthouse, the lamp of which is 173 ft. above water, is said to be the finest one on the Atlantic coast. After a short stay we sail home, feeling that he have had a fine day at sea. When you want to keep cool and grow strong, come to Cottage City and spend a while in the ocean. This is not "a land of the sky," not a land of the midnight Sun," but a land where the waters are always clear, a land of beauty, a land most dear.

We have had most delightful two month's stay at the seashore, have attended the Summer School, and Campmeetings and will leave soon for our work in Boston, great historic Boston, our "Athens of America."

Till then adieu.

A Lesson in Natural History for Month of SEPTEMBER

To the microscopist or student of nature there is always present a feeling of sadness and regret when it is necessary to leave that subject upon which his thoughts have been so long and so intently fixed, and so it is with the writer of these simple expositions of lowest life.

It has not been his aim to present any new or startlingly original remark or discovery, but rather to endeavor to bring forth in the plainest and most simple language a few—very few, of the facts regarding the early beginnings of life in this sphere and pass on untroubled, for, as a mountain, when viewed from a distance, shows not the many difficulties of its ascent in the form of crevices and bowlders until we actually come nearer and begin that ascent, so with the trail of life from the lowest to the highest. There are many gaps, but even as the mountain side presents indisputable evidence of its upward slope in spite of the valleys, we may have to climb down in the march to its top.

We speak of the beginnings of life on this planet, and it must not be supposed that, although our world is "theory" with antiquity and "life" is an "old, old story," having its "beginnings" countless ages ago, that the same forces are not at work now in the present as then. Truly "life is a cycle," having no beginning and no ending—the circle is undoubtedly expanding, but the same course being followed, each being propagating its kind, and although there are many gaps which science cannot fill out, yet the seeker of truth can bridge them.

Of the countless things that the fall season suggests to the student of natural history as worthy of his best efforts, let us take up the common householdly before the frosts of winter put a stop to his chery song.

Fig. 1. One of the most interesting features of the household is the way by which he holds fast to his household gods which he calls. If you will direct your eye to Fig. 6 of this article you will see a fairly good representation of the fly's foot with its two giant claws and its "pads."

Fig. 2. For the commonest objects around him take on new and fuller beauties and meanings when examined, and well repay the time spent.

Nothing is too common to be a source of wonder and delight, for in Fig. 1 we see the microscopic enlargement of a stalk of rolled-out, while in Fig. 4 is a transverse section of a kernel of corn. So who shall say that such and such an object is too mean "common?" Truly it is sometimes borne in upon us the meaning of the old saying: "Familiarity breeds contempt." Even although our "familiar" is more than an idea as to the outward shape of the object we have been familiar with.

The Ice Habit in England. The ice habit is making rapid progress in Great Britain, due largely to the incessant clamor for ice in hotels and public places by the thousands of traveling Americans. Not very long ago the attendants of public places in England, where nearly everything except ice was provided, would be insulting if one complained because ice could not be had. To-day all first-class places have a few small fountains swimming in a glass dish, and you pick them out from house to house, and in country inns and even in second-class public houses they apologize for not having it.

Though very few saloons and restaurants have refrigerators, many private residences now own them; and there would be far more general use of ice if companies were organized to distribute it from house to house. As it is, one must secure it almost by favor from the fishmonger.

A recent issue of the London Daily Mail had an article on ice. It is the yearly consumption of ice in England was estimated at 450,000 tons (long) and in London at 100,000 tons (long) and the paper added: "The demand is rapidly increasing, now that the public have awakened to an intelligent appreciation of the cheapness and usefulness of the commodity." One London ice company is credited with having a permanent storage of 10,000 tons to meet unusual hot weather demands, daily supplies being taken direct from ships which bring it from the mountain lakes of Norway; and, of course, a good deal of ice is manufactured.

Manual Training in Germany. There exist at present in Germany, many, distributed in 603 places, 861 schools and institutes for manual training. This training is carried on in 1,514 workshops. Of this number 830 schools and institutes conduct the training on a pedagogical basis, Prussia has 375 manual training schools. The 1,514 pupils' workshops comprise 246 independent manual training schools and 238 public schools, of which 16 are auxiliary schools where the work is obligatory, 17 are middle-class schools, 41 are high schools (made up of 8 gymnasiums, 6 technical gymnasiums, 12 technical and technical high schools and 15 boarding schools), 7 are preparatory institutes, 26 are teachers' seminaries and 93 are boys' asylums; while the remainder consists of various kinds of private educational establishments.

Five hundred and thirty-five workshops are devoted to wood carving, 57 to working in cardboard and 256 to the carpenter's bench. Of these, 65 are closely connected with wood carving, 77 with preparatory roughing-out work, 35 with metal work, 28 with country timbering, 11 with wood and metal turning and 11 with modeling in clay.

Over 2,200 German teachers have been taught to become instructors in manual training. Of these, 954 were trained in Leipzig and 1,250 acquired training in 33 places in other parts of Germany.

Commercial Travelers in Switzerland. During the year 1898, 108,353 commercial travelers were in Switzerland. In 1899 the number was increased to 25,691. Of these, 20,095 were in Switzerland, 1,176 French, 350 Italian, 173 Austrian, 49 Belgian, 28 English, 18 Dutch, 8 Spanish, 1 Swedish and 1 American. From these figures it is not surprising that Germany, France and Italy should have captured the lion's share of the Swiss Import trade.

Joe Parker has had his father nominated in the Fifth district, on the Populist ticket. The Parker family appear to be the middle-of-the-roaders left in that part of the state.

Representative Barton, of Pendleton, and Doorkeeper B. B. Hensley, of the Senate, fell out over Sixth District politics Friday and had a fist fight in the lobby of the Capital Hotel, in which Barton came out victor. No guns were pulled.

County Clerk Chinn, of Fayette, has accepted Moody's credentials and turned down the certificate of South Trimble. Democratic nominee in the Seventh District. He says he will put Moody's name under the roster on the official ballot.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; this case out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

What are Humors?

They are vitiated or morbid fluids coursing the veins and affecting the tissues. They are commonly due to defective digestion but sometimes inherited. How do they manifest themselves? In many forms of cutaneous eruptions, all venous or venous, pimples and boils, and in weakness, languor and general debility.

How are they expelled? By Hood's Sarsaparilla which builds up the system that has suffered from them. It is the best of all medicines for all humors.

Roosevelt encountered a severe frost in Michigan, only a handful of people attending some of his speakings. At one place in Western Michigan, a Republican stronghold, while the Governor was speaking several men handed around circulars belittling his war record and criticizing his boasting of having shot a Spaniard in the back. It also accused him of saying in his book published in 1898, page 505: "When drunk on the villainous whiskey of the frontier towns the cowboys are the much better fellows and pleasanter companions than the small farmers or laborers, nor are the mechanics of a great city to be mentioned in the same breath." A copy was handed to the Governor and he blushed as he read it. "This is shooting from the bush," he said. "I never wrote anything like a statement that a drunken cowboy was better than a farmer or laborer. It is all lies." As his book speaks for itself this public acknowledgement that "it is all lies," is not calculated to help Teddy the Terror. Who was it said, "Oh that mine enemy would write a book?"

The State Election Board has called on party committees for county recommendations. Under the present law the county boards must be appointed during September, and no chances will be taken by which there might be no election machinery at all if the Legislature should fail to do anything. The registration this year comes on Oct. 2 and election officers in the cities must be named by Oct. 1, unless it should be held that the officers appointed last October can serve until their successors are named. It hardly seems possible for the Legislature to enact a new law in time to appoint registration officers.

A new record of arctic exploration has been made by the Duke of Abruzzi, an Italian navigator, a cousin of the present King of Italy. He has approached nearer to the pole than any other man has ever done. Following is the record so far.

Yerkes, the dignified aristocrat, the polished gentleman, the clean man, the great leader who knows his pedigree, turns up with a brother who, while himself a professor, is an ordinary street-fighter, who has distinguished himself by trying to whip an editor who criticized "Proxy John's" speech. And so it goes. Scratch under the surface polish of the best of them and nine times out of ten you will find the ordinary Republican, with anarchistic tendencies and a contempt for law and order.

Among the speakers on the stump yesterday were McCreary at Elkton, Beckham and Wheeler at Leitchfield, Black at Pineville, McQuown at Scottville, Peake at Lexington, Gilbert at Stanford, Smith at Munfordsville and Rhea at Morgantown. All of the principal speakers have dates for next Monday, when McCreary and Beckham will be at Mayfield.

The Republicans have stopped the Pennsylvania strike in the coal mines. Hanna is said to have ordered Quay to have the mine owners accede to the demands of the strikers for two months, promising that the Republican committee would stand the loss until after the election.

The Republicans are becoming thoroughly alarmed and will be in a panic long before the election. Wilbur F. Wakeman, U. S. Appraiser, is out in an interview sounding a note of warning. He says Bryan has 142 votes sure and only 82 to get and that New York is a very doubtful state.

The Indiana Republican organization is getting tired of Taylor. Chairman Herney, at Indianapolis, is quoted as saying of the fugitive whose murderous conduct was made a plank of the Kentucky Republican platform:

"Mr. Taylor is not making speeches under the auspices of our committee, but is doing so on his own hook. I understand he is simply filling personal appointments in places where he has been invited. Our committee has nothing whatever to do with his engagements."

If all who knew and approved of the contemplated murder of Gov. Goebel were to be indicted at Frankfort this week, some of the Republican leaders in this county may be called upon to explain. At least one of them stated publicly the day before the assassination: "Goebel may be counted in but he will never be governor." And another who had held a high office threw up his hat and shouted for joy when he heard that the plans had been carried out.

The outlook daily grows brighter and New York is now being claimed with confidence for Bryan. Two members of the Cleveland cabinet have come out for the ticket and it is believed Cleveland will do the same, as he has declined to accept an appointment on McKinley's Peace Conference. The Olney letter has done great good in the East and predictions are freely made that it is to be a landslide.

Taylor pardoned Powers and aided him in his flight to the mountains. The Republican platform endorses Taylor's course, including the bogus pardon. Yerkes stands on this platform. Therefore until he declares to the contrary he stands committed to the pardoning of Powers. He has dodged the question at Bowling Green, in this city and elsewhere.

Mr. Yerkes is somewhat tenderfooted on the Powers pardon and we will give him an easier question: "Will you kindly tell us if you would as Governor pardon your brother, Prof. Yerkes, if he should be indicted and convicted of malicious assault in Bourbon county?" Speak right out, like a man, all the folks are listening.

SCANDAL IN UNION.

Another Double Tragedy at Sturgis, the Home of Sensations.

Thomas Holt and Miss Cora Waller, both of Morganfield, drove in a buggy to Sturgis Sunday night and the young lady died in the operating chair of Dr. W. E. Clark; while having a criminal operation performed.

When Miss Waller breathed her last breath Holt pulled a revolver from his pocket, and, placing the muzzle in his mouth, pulled the trigger. Then bending over the lifeless body of his sweetheart, he imprinted a kiss from his bleeding lips on her cheek, and straightening himself up he fired a bullet into his heart, falling over the prostrate form in the operating chair.

Clark was arrested and hurried to Morganfield to escape mob violence.

Holt was a prominent young man and Miss Waller was one of the most beautiful young women in Morganfield.

The Democratic Campaign Committee of the county has been organized with nine members. R. E. Cooper was elected chairman and Phil Gaither secretary. Other members are J. H. Eggleston, Douglas Bell, Buckner Leavell, J. T. Wall, W. A. Wilgus, Geo. E. Gary, and James West.

The committee met at once on Campaign Headquarters in a large storeroom on Main Street and keep open house until the election. The secretary and there will be always on hand and Democrats from all parts of the county will be invited to call and make themselves at home. There will be a reading room, smoking room and plenty of campaign literature and information.

The young ladies will present the Headquarters with an elegant banner and flag. This work is in the hands of Misses Tony Ware, Nettie Shanklin, Bessie Richards, Lady Bird Ragsdale and Eloise Nelson. In the same room Chas. M. Meacham, Executive Committeeman for the Second District, will open Congressional Headquarters, and a secretary will be appointed to look especially after this part of the organization.

The Democrats are preparing to make the most aggressive fight ever made in the county.

The location of the Headquarters will be decided on to-day.

The Great Show.

Not only have the newspapers of New York city recently and again emphasized the fact, but it is generally known throughout the breadth of the whole land, as well, that the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' great consolidated show, which are to exhibit at Madisonville on Saturday, Sept. 22, far surpasses any other similar organization in the number of wild beasts, amphibia, elephants, horses, performing animals, riders, acrobats, clowns, leopards, charioteers, jockeys, great artists and glorious acts, and in the quantity and quality of entertainment furnished for the ordinary price of admission.

Among the most notable new prodigies introduced will be found Hassan Ali, the Egyptian giant, said to be the tallest man on earth, and for the past 2 years a big attraction with the Barnum & Bailey show in London and Great Britain. The number of principal male and female bareback riders has been increased to nineteen; that of the clowns to twenty-five, and in the aerial and acrobatic departments the additions are proportionately large and brilliant.

The grand double street parade has been made still more richly, and in every direction still greater effort has been made and greater outlay incurred to more than meet the popular demand for cheap, wholesome, stirring and hilarious entertainment.

Wiedemann Comedy Company.

Wiedemann's Big Show opened their week's engagement at Holland's Opera House last night to a packed house, presenting the four-act comedy "About Town." The company is stronger this year than ever. Tom and Nellie Wiedemann are the clever people as of old and the supporting company is very strong. The specialties between acts are all new features and Prof. McDonald's orchestra is one of the best that has ever visited our city. The engagement is for the week with Saturday Matinee. A new list of plays will be presented, with change of specialties each evening.

How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of SCOTT'S EMULSION. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somewhat the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

REPUBLICANS MEET

In County Convention and Instruct For Lynch.

Thirty-five white and five colored Republicans held a county convention Saturday evening and appointed delegates to the district convention instructed to vote for a free silver Brownie, Mr. Wm. Lynch.

The convention was called to order by Judge Anderson and organized by the election of Judge Polk Cansler as chairman and Jim Auglin, col., as secretary.

The chairman made a speech in which he said the assassination of Gov. Goebel was due to the "high-way robbery of the Democrats" and that it would have been strange if somebody had not been found to "resist" the "robbery." The Judge also appeared to be dissatisfied with the present election law, that some prominent Republican county officers violated last year by entering the poll rooms and trying to influence the election officers.

This flagrant violation of the law by county officers was one of the high-handed proceedings that prevented the holding of a lawful election in the court-house precinct. But to return to the convention.

A committee was appointed who reported resolutions endorsing the fusion candidate, but they were not adopted unanimously. John Feland was present and gave the convention a piece of his mind on the sell-out. John Everett and other "true blues" were present and applauded Feland's warm speech. But the slate went through and the imperial edict of Broncho Franks was obeyed to the letter.

TIME DRAWS NEAR

For The Great Hopkinsville Elks Fair and Carnival.

Two weeks from to-day the Hopkinsville Elks Fair and Carnival will be inaugurated, and for "joyous days"—so the advertising matter proclaims them—the city will be crowded with visitors who will enjoy the sights and have a good time generally, incidentally trading with the local merchants.

The ample proportions of the big event are being more apparent as the time of holding the fair draws near. Every day will be a special day of some sort and every hour will be crowded with interesting features.

A magnificent fire works exhibition will take place on the night of the 27th, eclipsing any pyrotechnic display ever witnessed in this section. The Diving Elks, two large and beautiful trained animals, comprise the chief fire attraction. They plunge from towers seventy-five feet high into a miniature lake. Another free attraction is Mlle. Charlene, the celebrated Mexican aerial artists whose sensational mid air feats thrill all spectators. Messrs. W. A. Wilgus and James A. Radford, who have been in Chicago and other large cities since the first of last week, wire that they have contracted for other high-class features.

The midway shows are many and varied and a trip "down the line" will delight everybody who takes it. In an early issue the KENTUCKIAN will describe some of the best performances that will amuse the visitor on "The Midway."

The parades are being planned on an elaborate scale, especially a floral pageant on Thursday of fair week and the industrial procession on Saturday. Local society will be out in gaily adorned traps, and several handsome floats are being arranged. One of these will be constructed for the Elks and will be occupied by the Queen of the Carnival and her maids of honor. The queen will be a question that is exciting unusual speculation. Balloting for this distinguished honor was begun Saturday and the vote will be counted to-day. The Queen will chose her own attendants. On Friday night of the fair the Elks trap will take place. A thousand invitations to the leading society people of Kentucky and adjoining States will be issued. The Queen of the Carnival will be formally crowned at the ball.

The permanent headquarters of the Elks Fair and Carnival were opened yesterday in the Ragsdale, Cooper & Co. building. A huge streamer stretched between Forbes & Bros. and the former building mark the location of the rooms. Members of the committee remain

GIGANTIC AFFAIR

Will Be Louisville's Carnival and Industrial Exposition.

Louisville's second Fall Carnival and Industrial Exposition which will be held September 17th to 29th will be the most gigantic undertaking of the sort ever assumed by any Lodge of Elks in the South and West. Discouraged by the brilliant success of last year's Carnival, when 250,000 people attended in the two weeks of its duration, it is determined to make this year's undertaking greater in every respect. The lowest railroad rates ever secured for any Louisville undertaking have been made for this event and it is safe to say that a record-breaking crowd, not only throughout the State of Kentucky but Southern Indiana will attend. McKinley and Wm. Jennings Bryan have been invited.

Louisville's Street Fair will be the largest ever held in the United States. There will be one solid mile of booths, comprising three hundred industrial displays, representing the best products of looms, factories and mills, and choicest wares of Louisville's biggest stores will be on dress parade. There will be many exhibitions of a most unique and attractive character.

The Carnival is Louisville this year will be inaugurated with the biggest Floral parade ever arranged in the South. When it is said there will be five miles of gorgeous decorated vehicles some estimate can be formed of the magnitude of this parade. Fifteen bands will be in line; the entire Louisville police force and fire department will take part, and the apparatuses of the departments will be elaborately decorated. To arouse rivalry and stimulate competition fifty prizes will be offered for the best display. The swiftest private vehicles in the city, drawn by the proudest horseflesh in the State, will be seen in dazzling array. It will be better than a circus and of vastly more interest.

The Louisville Midway will be a great amusing institution. Fairly crowded with attractive shows, representing the splendor and the mystery of the East and the wealth and beauty of the West. There will be the Streets of Cairo, with its dancing girls, Hindoos, Arabs, Cabans, Port Ricans, Camels, Oriental Theater, Indian Jugglers and the largest wild animal show ever assembled for and Midway.

On the Elks' lot at the Carnival there will be many free concerts and other diversions to suit the taste of the young and old and people of all degrees.

No detail has been overlooked to make this Carnival a brilliant success. On all hands the most hearty cooperation has been extended to the Louisville Lodge of Elks, to whose energy and resource this great undertaking is possible.

Every day at the Louisville Carnival will be a special day: for each of these days special attractions have been secured. The complete list for special days are as follows:

Monday, September 17th, Louisville Day; Tuesday, September 18th, Souvenir Day; Wednesday, September 19th, Ladies Day, White Baby Show; Thursday, September 20th, Fraternal and Orphans Day; Friday, September 21st, Labor Day and Railroad Day; Saturday, September 22nd, German-American and School Children's Day; Monday, September 24th, Afro-American Day, Fiddlers' Contest, etc.; Tuesday, September 25th, Irish-American Day; Wednesday, September 26th, Elks' Day; Thursday, September 27th, Merchants Day; Friday, September 28th, Indians Day; Saturday, September 29th, Kentucky Day.

DIED OF PARALYSIS.

Had Been Confined to Bed For Five Years.

Mr. John Henry Wolf, son of Mr. John Wolf, of the Antioch neighborhood, died at the home of his father last Thursday night, after a long illness of paralysis, resulting from rheumatism from which he had been a sufferer for a long time. About five years ago he was paralyzed and since that time had been confined to his bed.

He was born Nov. 11, 1853, and was therefore nearly 47 years of age. He leaves a wife and three children—a son and two daughters—besides a host of friends to mourn their loss.

The interment took place in the family burying ground Saturday.

One night recently my wife was giving a dose to our baby (14 years old) and Nelda (our little girl, 4 years old) cried for some. ## ODD HITITE INSCRIPTION.

Immense Reproduction of a Fragment in Chicago's Art Institute.

One of the most curious of Hittite monuments is contained in the Chicago Art Institute.

On one of the reliefs, which may be found in the north corridor, room 1, hangs an immense reproduction of a fragment, with the following description:

"Mythological or Religious Ceremony. Hittite, XIV. Century, B. C. From Relief shown in Limestone Rock at Boghaz Keui, Cappadocia, Asia Minor."

It represents a male figure, priest or soldier, with spear, and a head dress similar to those of the Egyptians of the early period. On the arm to the left (it may be the left arm or it may be the right, as the anatomy of these ancient sculptures is somewhat confusing) there are a number of strange symbols, and this same inscription has been a puzzling block to more than one enterprising archaeologist. But it remained for J. Ringer, of Marion, Ind., to make the ground signs as clear as day.

Some time ago Mr. Ringer visited Chicago, and, being a lover of art, dropped in at the institute to see the treasures. Like a habitual gallery visitor, he commenced with the catalogue and started with room No. 1. A few minutes later one of the guards came to Mr. Ringer and told him that a gentleman claimed that his name was carved in one of the bas reliefs. Mr. Ringer hurried, naturally thinking some one had defaced one of the reproductions. He found an elderly man who told a strange story. He was J. Ringer, of Marion, Ind., a born traveler and soldier of fortune. In 1887 Mr. Ringer was making a trip around the world, and on coming through Asia Minor decided to make a visit to that region, not far from Smyrna, where the famous sculptures of the Hittites had laid for centuries. After a hard morning's ramble he found himself in advance of his party and guides, and, sitting down by the roadside, among the ruins, tried to find some way of amusing himself until the hour for luncheon. The big relief was in easy reach, so with the true American autograph spirit he took his jackknife and began to make nick in the limestone. The stone was hard and the day was hot, but he persevered, and after an hour's hard labor was pleased to see that the name of J. Ringer would go down to posterity carved in the live rock on the mountain side. Then the traveler went on his way and forgot all about it. Now nearly half a century later he comes across his name in the art museum of Chicago, and should he visit the museums of other American cities and those of Europe he would find that he is on record there also.—N. Y. Journal.

MORAINES IN SOUTH DAKOTA.

Effect of Glacial Action in Southwestern Part of State.

The account of the "Moraines of southeastern South Dakota and their attendant deposits" by Todd (United States geological survey, Bull. 158, 1899) is another example of those remarkable correlations between glacial action and existing topography by which so much light has been thrown on modern physiographic study in recent years. The outer (Altamont) moraine marks the border of an irregularly lobate glacier lying between Missouri and Big Sioux rivers, whose advance was retarded where preglacial hills (outliners of Cretaceous and Tertiary strata) stood in its way; here the moraine rises in an interlobate upland which terminates inward (toward the glaciated area) in a strong cusp, as in Turtle and Turkey hills; the rim of the island is incised by broad channels of glacial waters which flowed from the ice, and the axis of the upland is trenched by the trunk stream that resulted from the confluence of these ice water branches. The broad lobate glacier seems to have invaded the preglacial course of the Missouri, which therefore rose as a lake (Old Red lake) just above the entrance of White river from the western plains, the lake level being recorded by a large delta built by this river. The outlet of the lake was along the southwestern margin of the ice, where a new channel has been cut from the mouth of White river to that of Niobrara river. At a later stage a second moraine (Gary) was formed around a reduced ice lobe, whose area is roughly marked by the space between the James and Vermillion rivers. The floor of the ice lobes is now a smoothly undulating plain of tiller cut, free from boulders and incised by narrow stream channels.—Science.

THE TYRANT CUPID.

Say what you will, Cupid is sometimes a tyrant after all. He waxes his lash of government over the head of every woman who elects him to rule her life. No woman can choose the happiness and honor of widowhood and motherhood without first due to its pains and penalties.

No woman ought to suffer as most do from those ailments and weaknesses which are due to her peculiarly delicate and susceptible organism. Every woman ought to know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure these unnatural and debilitating troubles. It cures them absolutely, completely, permanently. It contains no alcohol to create a craving for stimulants.

"It is quite heart grateful that I must tell you what my medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. F. C. Crisshaw, of Panama, Kan., in a letter to Dr. R. C. Pierce, dated May 1, 1899. "After consulting you about my case I took your medicine and it cured me of female weakness. I was all run down; I suffered with sick headache, pains in the back and bearing down pains. I took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and was able to take care of my home. My health is better than it has been for three years. I do not know how to thank you for the kind advice you gave me cheerfully."

This grand "Prescription" has accomplished the same beneficent purpose for thousands of women in every corner of this broad land. It imparts health, strength and endurance to the special organs of womanhood and gives tonic vitality to the entire nervous system. Its marvelous properties are more fully described in one chapter of the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser by R. V. Pierce, M. D., a splendid thousand-page illustrated volume which will be sent free of charge to any woman who will send a free paper-bound for 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps.
